Re: Star Chamber-Five Star;

Rico

Please use the enclosed prenumbered forms for the below-listed court order and any extensions thereof.

The AOC has mandated that all Form 1 and Form 2 submissions beginning with new Title III court orders on or after 1/1/80 be submitted on the forms attached. AOC is authorized to issue binding regulations dealing with the content and form of the reports required to be filed under subsection (1) and (2) of Title 18, U.S.C., Section 2519.

(In a joint or "task force"-type investigation involving another Federal agency, that agency which is responsible for record-keeping procedures, as outlined in the MIOG, Section 10-9.9, shall be responsible for the preparation and submission of the Form 2 in accordance with that agency's established procedures. It will be the responsibility of the designated Special Agent (see "Step 6") to maintain effective liaison with the appropriate agency in order that all necessary statistics, costs, and results are compiled and reported on one Form 2 to be submitted by the responsible agency.)

The following procedural steps are to be followed in order to comply with the current instructions of the AOC, the Department of Justice, and the FBI:

Step 1 - FBIHQ ELSUR Index, upon becoming aware of a new Title III court order being signed, will, on a case-by-case basis, forward by airtel under the substantive case caption to the field office involved a prenumbered, precarboned Form 1 and Form 2 packet as provided by the AOC.

Step 2 - Within ten working days of date of this communication, by airtel under the substantive case title, New York is to advise FBIHQ ELSUR Index of the name of the prosecuting official making the Title III application and the name of the Special Agent who will then have the responsibility for completing the enclosed packet. This airtel should be submitted inside a sealed brown envelope clearly labeled "Director, FBI, ELSUR Index, FBIHQ."

Airtel to ADIC, New York
Re: Star Chamber-Five Star;
et al;
Rico

Step 3 - Form 1 reports are to be submitted on or before the 30th day following the denial of a court order, or, in the case of the issuance of such an order, on or before the 30th day following the expiration of the order, including all extensions. The designated Special Agent and the prosecuting official will complete the Form 1 portion of the enclosed packet. The Form 1 portion should remain with prosecuting official.

Step 4 - The prosecuting official shall then be responsible for providing the issuing Judge the Form 1 for his review, approval, and signature in order for the Court to forward the Form 1 to the AOC in compliance with Title 18, U.S.C., Section 2519 (1).

Step 5 - The FBI has assumed the responsibility for the submission of the Form 2 (ply 3 of the enclosed packet) to the AOC. This procedure is not to be handled by the prosecuting official. The Special Agent responsible for the completion of the Form 2 portion will retain, with no additional notations at the time, that portion (ply 3) in the exhibit section of the substantive file until the end of the calendar year in which the order terminated, at which time it will be submitted to FBIHQ ELSUR Index. (See "Step 7" below. A copy may be provided the prosecuting official upon request, but the original must be maintained as indicated for expeditious handling at the end of the calendar year.)

Step 6 - The Special Agent designated shall compile the statistics, costs, and results of the Title III in order to complete sections 7 through 11 of the Form 2 at the end of the year.

Step 7 - Prior to the end of each calendar year, FBIHQ will furnish instructions to all offices for the completion of the remaining portions of the Form 2 (sections 7 - 11) and the subsequent submissions of the form to FBIHQ ELSUR Index, generally by the third week of December. Upon receipt of the Form 2s, FBIHQ will coordinate the preparation and submission of these forms to the AOC in compliance with the aforelisted statute.

The Special Agent responsible for coordinating with the prosecuting official supervising your recent court order dated [redacted] and responsible for completing the packet, must become totally familiar with the instructions and the format.

The enclosed packet is prenumbered and accounted for, therefore, extreme care must be given to follow these instructions and eliminate retypes insofar as possible.

In the event you have any questions regarding the completion of the enclosed packet, contact should be made with FBIHQ, ELSUR Index, extension 3300. You are again reminded that a response to this communication is required (see "Step 2").

In addition to the information required in response to "Step 2" above, New York is instructed to also provide FBIHQ ELSUR Index with the date the above court order was signed, and the full name of the U. S. District Court Judge signing same.

Monopoly in Concrete Trade Is Charged in a Federal Suit

yesterday. They failed to return messages left at their offices. In addition, spokesmen for some of the companies cited in the suit declined to comment, saying they had not been served with copies of the complaint.

Concrete accounts for about 25 percent of the total cost of construction in the city, according to local builders. Because most construction in the city is done through private contracts, the exact amount spent for concrete is unknown. But construction experts estimate that expenditures for concrete range from $300 million to $500 million a year.

Mr. Abrams, who is the state's chief law enforcement officer, said in the suit that in 1981, through a tangled series of acquisitions, the Transit-Mix Company acquired control of its two chief competitors in the city — the Certified Concrete Company and the Big Apple Concrete Corporation. The 19 companies and the 10 executives named in the suit were said to have been involved in transfers of property that allowed Transit-Mix and its principal owner, Edward F. Halloran, to gain control of the industry.

As a result of the acquisitions, Mr. Abrams said in the suit, Mr. Halloran "owned and controlled what had previously been the top three independent firms and thereby held a share of 90 to 100 percent" of the ready-mix concrete market in Manhattan, the Bronx, Brooklyn and Queens. Ready-mix is the major type of concrete used for heavy construction in the city.

A Continuing Inquiry

Mr. Halloran was not named as a defendant in the suit. According to Timothy Gilles, Mr. Abrams's press secretary, "Mr. Halloran is the subject of a continuing civil and criminal investigation, and we did not want to take any action now that might restrict our options in the future."

Mr. Halloran's secretary in his office at 845 Lexington Avenue said he was away yesterday and could not be reached. He is also described in the suit as the principal owner of the Halloran House hotel at 525 Lexington Avenue.

A lawyer for Mr. Halloran and the Transit-Mix Company, Frederick P. Hafetz, declined to comment on the civil charges or on Mr. Gilles's statement that Mr. Halloran was under investigation.

Mr. Abrams said the suit was the first antitrust action brought by the state against construction companies in the city in more than 20 years. He said the suit had been filed in Federal court rather than in state court so that the state could use broader Federal laws and seek larger penalties.

The suit accuses the defendants of violating provisions of the Federal Sherman and Clayton Acts and the state's antitrust law, the Donnelly Act.

A Virtual Monopoly

"Most people don't realize the pivotal role concrete plays in overall construction costs," Mr. Abrams said in an interview. "The overcharges are passed along to the public through higher office rents, higher rents for apartments and higher costs on public projects such as the Convention Center."

Mr. Abrams said the "illegal mergers and acquisitions have created a virtual monopoly with the result being that the price of concrete has been driven to record levels." The highest bidding bids have been in Manhattan, where concrete costs are highest, he said.

Ready-mix concrete is sold by suppliers in units called yards, representing 4,000 pounds. The average price for a

The New York Times

Attorney General Robert Abrams

According to a construction trade publication, Engineering News Record, concrete costs in May were higher in New York City than in any other city in the Northeast with comparable labor costs and traffic problems.

In the suit, the Attorney General's office said that in 1974, there were four major suppliers of concrete for all the boroughs except Staten Island. The Transit-Mix Company, the suit said, acquired the Ryan Ready Mixed Concrete Corporation in 1974 and the Colonial Sand and Stone Company in 1976.

Currently the only ready-mix concrete plants in Manhattan are at the former Big Apple Company site at 28th Street and the Hudson River and the Certified Concrete Company site at 127th Street and the Harlem River.

Mr. Abrams said the investigation by his office's antitrust bureau began in 1981, after he personally received a complaint from an official of a construction company. Mr. Abrams declined to identify the official.

In April 1982, in a series of articles about corruption in New York City's construction industry, The New York Times reported that concrete prices in the city were 70 percent higher than in any other city in the Northeast, and that a handful of companies controlled the ready-mix and concrete construction industries.

In addition to Transit-Mix and Big Apple, these other companies, all but one based in New York City, were named as defendants:

The Marine Pollution Service Inc.
Aggregate Industries Inc.
Shelton Towers Associates
Coford Inc.
Halloran Properties Associates
Halloran Properties Inc.
Halloran Equities Corporation
S & A Concrete Company
Credit Alliance Corporation
Leasing Service Corporation
H J Enterprises Inc.
The D.C. Concrete Corporation
D.C. Industries Inc.
Underhill Construction Corporation
Underhill Industries Inc.
D.C. Underhill Construction Corporation
Vigorelli Brothers Inc., Elmsford, L.I.

These executives were listed as defendants:

Joseph DePaola, Frank Phelan, Anthony Barone, Walter Goldstein and Bernard Jerski, all of H.J. Enterprises, which owned the Certified Concrete Corporation.
Joseph Vigorelli, Frank Vigorelli, Alfonso DeMottis, Frederick DeMottis and Gerald Handel, all stockholders of the Big Apple Concrete Corporation.

MONOPOLY IS SEEN IN CONCRETE SALES

Abrams Suit Asserts Company
Sought to Fix Prices in City

By SELWYN RAAB

State Attorney General Robert Abrams, in a Federal lawsuit, asserted yesterday that one company had created a monopoly to fix prices in New York City's concrete-supply industry.

Mr. Abrams, in an interview, said that since 1981 the price-fixing scheme had resulted in overcharges at public and private construction projects totaling between $40 million and $50 million a year.

The civil suit filed in Federal District Court in Manhattan accused 19 companies and 10 executives of the companies of violating Federal and state antitrust laws by conspiring to allow the Transit-Mix Concrete Corporation to become the dominant supplier of concrete in the city.

Requests to the Court

Mr. Abrams asked the Federal court to break up Transit-Mix's control over supplies of ready-mix concrete to local builders and to fine the companies and the executives cited in the suit. If found guilty, each company could be fined up to $1 million and each individual up to $100,000.

Attempts to contact the executives named as defendants were unavailing.

At approximately 2:30 P.M. all five individuals stood up and exchanged departing remarks. "So long, Tony" was spoken by one of the unidentified males, as overheard by SA [redacted] SALERNO placed a straw hat on his head and walked through the length of the restaurant, and out the front door with the help of a cane. The other four individuals stood a few feet from the table and were engaged in conversation.
